Welcome home

Abbeyfield Worcester and Hereford Society Ltd is delighted to present Ainslie House, an attractive Georgian building with 11 comfortable studio apartments for older people to rent, situated just a stone's throw from Hereford's historic cathedral.

For peace of mind, there is a 24 hour telecare service and friendly help on site daily whilst services such as eating together twice a day and help with cleaning make life a little easier for older people.

The Grade II-listed property was extensively renovated in 1996 and remains homely with a welcoming residents' lounge and small garden to be enjoyed on sunnier days.

Ainslie House can also accommodate extra care services which residents can arrange as they are required.

Supported housing – a lifestyle choice

Supported housing offers the best of independent living whilst remaining part of a friendly and sociable shared house.

Independence – with companionship and help when its needed

Ainslie House offers you your own space to enjoy later life: the comfort and privacy of your own en-suite studio as well as the opportunity to enjoy the company of others in communal areas such as the dining room, lounge and garden. Eating together twice a day is an important part of our ethos and there's always plenty to do with a busy events and social calendar.

Help with daily activities such as cleaning and laundry can also be organised, along with personal care services, as your needs change over time.

Abbeyfield
Making time for older people

Part of the Abbeyfield family

At Abbeyfield, we believe older people deserve time and respect. It's our mission to provide the best service of care and housing for all our residents, and to be a champion for older people. We have been a charitable housing organisation for nearly 60 years. Throughout this time our residents have always been and remain at the heart of what we do and the services we provide.

Like all local Abbeyfield societies, Abbeyfield Worcester and Hereford Society Ltd operates as a charity. We put people before profits and constantly seek new ways to improve quality of life for every resident.
